ABOUT LLOYD

Lloyd captures your wedding day as it really happens. His style is modern and unobtrusive, producing a collection of beautiful photographs in both colour and black and white. He will record the story of your day without interfering and ensure that any group or portrait photographs will be shot in an informal and relaxed manner. For over ten years he has been making his name as one of the pioneers of the Photojournalistic style within wedding photography.

The regular featuring of his images in Bridal magazines reinforces his reputation as an exceptional and accomplished photographer. Lloyd's work is unrehearsed and uncontrived; he responds to the spontaneity of your day.

One of his satisfied clients, who works in the film industry, said after her wedding "Lloyd is more of an observer than a director", a comment Lloyd takes as a great compliment.

However you describe his style, it obviously has great appeal as Lloyd travels across the UK and Europe to photograph weddings. Lloyd's clients tend to have weddings that are a little out of the ordinary and consequently they look for a photographer with a slightly different approach. This approach is especially valued by those whose guest list includes high profile individuals and Lloyd has covered weddings attended by, amongst others, David Coulthard, Jane Horrocks, Zoë Wanamaker and Freddie Ljunberg.

It is Lloyd's aim to produce a collection of images that you can look at in ten years time and say, "that's what our wedding day was like!"

WEDDING COVERAGE:

Lloyd's clients book him for his informal style of wedding photography and, when working alone, he will be happy to photograph around 6-8 groups which he would normally aim to do within 15-20 minutes ensuring that you spend as much time as possible with your guests.

If you like Lloyd's style of photography but require more of the formal groups as well then he would strongly recommend that you opt for a second photographer. This would be an experienced professional working alongside Lloyd who would take care of the organised group photographs.

Whether you require additional formal groups or not, Lloyd recommends that you consider a second photographer when your number of guests is around 150 or more.

OPTION 1:

£2,795

A comprehensive service which includes; up to 10 hours of coverage by Lloyd and a second photographer. This means that both Bride and Groom could have a photographer with them as they prepare for the wedding and throughout the day the key moments would be caught from two different viewpoints. Included in this option is: a DVD containing all of your images at full resolution, 400 (9"x6") colour and black & white prints supplied in a presentation box and a £500 credit towards the album of your choice.

OPTION 2:

£1,995

Up to 8 hours of coverage by Lloyd and a second photographer.

The advantage of a second photographer includes the opportunity to have more formal group photographs if required

You will receive a superb collection of 350 (9"x6") colour and black & white prints supplied in a presentation box.

OPTION 3:

£1,695

Includes up to 8 hours attendance by Lloyd. The coverage would typically start with the preparation of the Bride and continue through the day, to include wedding breakfast, the speeches, cake cutting and your first dance. Given the unobtrusive nature of his work Lloyd will work completely informally but realizes that some people would still like to have the "basic" group shots, the family, bridal party etc. and so will arrange up to 8 formal group photographs.

You will receive a collection of 300 (9"x6") colour and black & white prints supplied in a presentation box.
